Examples of the positive influence of grant projects in the world

Bridging the health care gap in Mongolia with smartphones

Area of focus: Fighting disease

Host sponsor: Rotary Club of Khuree, Mongolia

International sponsor: Rotary Club of Cheonan-Dosol, Korea

Total budget: $50,000

Background: More than 300 villages in Mongolia are so remote that access to advanced health services is limited.

Scope: Doctors in 55 villages received smartphones and training in a tele-dermatology system through a user-friendly app.

Fun fact: The app was developed in Mongolia.

Taking cancer screening on the road in India

Area of focus: Fighting disease

Host sponsor: Rotary Club of Madras East, India

International sponsor: Rotary Club of San Antonio, Texas, USA

Total budget: $70,242

Background: India has more than 800,000 new cases of cancer every year; many people, especially in rural areas, are not aware of, cannot afford, or are afraid of screening for the disease. Late diagnosis of breast and cervical cancer leads to high mortality rates.

Scope: Rotarians identified a significant public health problem in their area, then found a strong cooperating organization to work with. They helped design a special vehicle to bring screenings to women in rural areas and mobilized their networks to ensure that the mobile unit would reach as many women as possible.

Impact: 3,650 women were screened during the project.

Top tip: Cooperate with an organization that is already experienced in the work your club plans to focus on.
